Altzella Monastery Park

Life Behind Monastery Walls

BRIEF DESCRIPTION

The ruins and buildings of what once used to be one of the richest and most powerful Cistercian monasteries lie embedded in a romantic landscape park. Since the time of Reformation, its monks have long disappeared but buildings, such as the Converses' House with the Refectorium and Library Hall or the Mausoleum of the Wettins, are a testimony of bygone times. Where had the monks once come from, which rules did they follow and what was their everyday life like? These are some of the questions that will be answered during an adventurous tour with a special highlight: While tasting a goblet of wine in the Refectorium you are given insight into the strict rules of the Cistercian Order in those times and will learn something about the measure of the drink. The tour will end at a coffee table where typical Saxon pastry is served.

SERVICE

- 👉 Welcome & guided tour of the monastery and the monastery park
- 👉 Experience »Bread, Salt and Wine« in the Refectory
- 👉 A pot of coffee and a typical Saxon pastry

Rochlitz Castle

Residency of the Forgotten Wettins

BRIEF DESCRIPTION

Proudly, mysteriously and somewhat gloomily, Rochlitz Castle keeps vigil over the town of the same name. Its walls can tell of a one-thousand-year history, of emperors, kings and princes. Numerous little gems can be discovered: The imposing cross-ribbed vaulting in the Chapel, the Black Kitchen with its functional hearth, the mighty donjons accommodating the dungeon and torture chamber and, last but not least, the splendidly restored Princes' House. It holds impressive stately residential rooms, but one can also find the unusual oddity: Sgraffiti once scratched into the wall plaster by young princes. And even travels in time pose no problem: Thanks to VR glasses, bygone eras can be explored in the castle.

Stolpen Castle

Countess Cosel is Pleased to Invite You

BRIEF DESCRIPTION

The name of Countess Cosel, the most well-known mistress of Augustus the Strong, Saxon Elector and King of Poland, is inseparably linked to Stolpen Castle, where she was incarcerated for 49 years. Today, an exhibition in the Johannis (Cosel) Tower is dedicated to her life.

It is very rare today that the countess receives guests in order to relate her view of things. Why are both her steep rise and her equally steep fall so close to one another? What was she driven by? What circumstances led to her lifelong banishment to Stolpen Castle? Abandoned and expelled from society, the former Imperial Countess Cosel willingly gives you information about her adventurous and fateful life at the original place of her incarceration.
